

Forum Search Forcing Login Request

Jason Rahm, 2010-22-04

Launch day! Whew. Now that we're out there, we're getting some feedback that old forum links are forcing a login, even though you are already logged in. This is due to a fundamental change in forum presence. Previously, the forums were open access to registered users (with a few exceptions). Now that we've introduced the idea of groups, all forums belong to a group. In order for you to view each forum, you need to join the group that hosts that forum.

Update: I recorded a quick video on this issue and how to rectify. The video is embedded below, but can also be found in the Getting Started section of DevCentral.
