

iControl Java Wrappers is live.

Don MacVittie, 2007-31-07

As of today, you can download the Java Wrappers project from the Labs pages of DevCentral. This project is designed to make utilizing Java and iControl (specifically Eclipse and iControl at this point) easier, speeding your development time and reducing your maintenance code base. The project is a layer on top of existing iControl APIs, so your current code doesn't have to be rewritten, you can just write future Java code with the APIs.

This is the first iteration of what we hope will become an iterative and interactive project to bring you tools to simplify your development.

Don.
