

Videos from F5's recent Agility customer / partner conference in London

Nick B, 2012-25-06

A week or so ago, F5 in EMEA held our annual customer / partner conference in London. I meant to do a little write-up sooner but after an incredibly busy conference week I flew to F5's HQ in Seattle and didn't get round to posting there either. So...better late than never?

One of the things we wanted to do at Agility was take advantage of the DevCentral team's presence at the event. They pioneered social media as a community tool, kicking off F5's DevCentral community (now c. 100,000 strong) in something like 2004. They are very experienced and knowledgeable about how to use rich media to get a message across. So we thought we'd ask them to do a few videos with F5's customers and partners about what drives them and how F5 fits in. Some of them are below, and all of them can be found here.
